7.0 Source of Pledged Revenues

To obtain a loan from Ohio EPA, the Borrower is required to pledge the user revenues derived from the ownership and operation of their system (i.e. user charge system) as security for the loan. It can also be used as the dedicated source of repayment. The user revenues, after deductions for the operating and maintenance and previous debt obligations, must be able to support the repayment of the loan. However, unless prohibited by law, the Borrower can also choose any of the following as a dedicated source of loan repayment, with the user rates remaining as the security.

Please indicate the intended source of loan repayment below. (More than one source can be used.)
